

MY WORDS, MY DESTINATION

Words are Gods instruments of creation,

Always communicate to proceed action.

Your words determines your reactions,

Words are the programmers of your decisions.

You attract to life what you have spoken

You don't wait for the results to be broken,

You speak to command the doors to open.

Don't speak anyhow, mind your words they don't fall into oceans.

By words I take my portion

This is my notion,

Winning without any discussion,

Nothing can stop me, my words determines my destination.
